The city of Constantine

Constantine vue du ciel (Yann Arthus Bertrand, 2013)

Constantine, one of the oldest cities in the world, is an important city in Mediterranean history. Formerly Cirta, capital of Numidia of 300 BC. BC to 46 BC. It is to Emperor Constantine I that it owes its present name since 313. Today Constantine is a metropolis with regional influence, and is the third most populated city of the country.

As such, Constantine was named Capital of Arab Culture 2015

Constantine is a major cultural and scientific center in Algeria. It has four universities and nearly 100,000 students, making it one of the most important university cities in Algeria and Africa.
